UN Assembly Voices Concern at Atrocites

Tells of Red Atrocities

Nehru Sees NoNearWar For World

'War Plus Aggression' Can Be Avoided for Practical Reasons, He Thinks

New Delhi, India, Dec. 3 (AP)—Premier Nehru said today there "is no near chance of war and war plus aggression can be avoided purely for practical reasons."

The Indian leader said in an interview "both sides are aware of the terrible consequences of war and therefore, however much shouting they do, there is a desire to avoid it."

Outlining his philosophy, which sometimes brought him into conflict with American congressmen, Nehru told three American newsmen that a military buildup could be overdone and should be judged against the possibility of imminent aggression.

Nehru outlined these points in a 35-minute interview:

1. India and "ever so many" other Asiatic nations want the maximum amount of peace "in order to build ourselves up" economically.

Can Be Overdone

2. The military buildup can be overdone if it means "spending resources too much for military" purposes and "less on economic * * * strengthening" of needy nations and if it creates a war psychology among the people.

3. India advocated American recognition of Red China as a nation rather than a Communist state because "any policy based on non-recognition" is apt to be "non-effective." China wants to rebuild its "terribly backward" country with machinery from aboard and "the more they get, the more they will broaden their shell."

4. The dominant feeling in Asia is nationalism or national liberation, "which leads to anti-westernism with which the United States lately has been identified."

"There is no doubt the United States does not favor old-style colonialism but, nevertheless, colonialism has been supported for other reasons by the United States," particularly in Indochina and parts of Africa.

Told Views to Nixon

Nehru, indicated he expressed these views to Vice President Richard Nixon in a two-hour "very good talk" last night. But he declined to specify the subjects discussed except to say they included the hot question of American military bases in Pakistan and other Far Eastern questions.

Nehru said the Indian-Russian trade pact signed yesterday was "a simple agreement" which had been discussed during the last three years and pushed through by the new Soviet ambassador. He said it could be "beneficial" to India and might lead to an increase in the relatively small amount of present trade between the two nations but added he knew of no plans for large purchases of Soviet machinery.

Nehru said he did not discuss with Nixon the Indochina war or the recent proposal for an anti-

30ROKsSay 'No,' Prefer Life as Reds

No Indication Is Given When Americans and Briton Will Receive Calls

Panmunjom, Dec. 3 (AP)—A second group of 30 South Koreans today unanimously chose life under the Communists, giving allied persuaders a total blank for two days of efforts to woo home balky war prisoners.

There was no violence, but many prisoners were more talkative than the 30 who yesterday listened passively to ROK explainers, then chose communism.

The UN command said 30 more South Koreans of 328 who refused repatriation will be interviewed tomorrow starting at 9 a. m. (7 p. m. EST Thursday).

There was no indication when 22 Americans and 1 Briton who stayed with the Communists will be called.

Sent Those Indoctrinated

Allied officers expressed the opinion that Communist leaders in the POW compound had sent their most thoroughly indoctrinated fellow prisoners to the first interviews.

"There will be a break in this," an American officer predicted. "Just wait and see. Maybe it will come tomorrow—maybe the next day. But it's coming."

Negotiators working on plans for a Korean peace conference, meanwhile, met for 3½ hours and apparently made no progress.

U. S. Envoy Arthur H. Dean warned the Reds that their insistence on seating Russia as a neutral might stall the conference "indefinitely and perhaps forever."

The Communists rejected Dean's plan for setting up a peace conference but did not mention specifically his proposal that Russia attend as a third party with full voting rights rather than as a Communist belligerent or a neutral.

Sang Red Songs

Some South Korean prisoners interviewed Thursday marched into the explanation tents singing Communist songs and chanting slogans.

But the interviews went so smoothly that a young Polish major serving as a repatriation commission observer began nodding and finally went to sleep. He awoke with a start when the session ended.

There was one dramatic scene when a young prisoner walked into the tent and recognized a ROK explainer as a friend from a South Korean army unit.

Both fought in the 2nd Battalion of the U. S. 5th Regimental Combat Team, then with the 24th Division.

The ROK major and the prisoner talked together for two hours, much of the time discussing the prisoner's family in South Korea.

Finally the POW said he had nothing against the major personally, but that he could "not return to South Korea as long as President Syngman Rhee remains in power."

The two shook hands and the prisoner walked out the door designated for those who choose to remain with the Communists.

McCarthy Denies Challenge To Eisenhower's Leadership

Senator Sticks to His Disagreement With Administration Foreign Policy

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) stuck to his guns today in his disagreement with the administration of foreign policy, but said any contention that he is challenging President Eisenhower's GOP leadership is "both ridiculous and untrue."

In a prepared statement, McCarthy said "I will continue to give my utmost support to the Republican party now and in the future" but he emphasized:

"This does not mean that I will refrain from criticizing my party when I think it it making mistakes."

Praises Top Pair

He praised both Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles in the statement, but said he still thinks this country should refuse dollar aid to any allied nation "shipping any goods to Communist China so long as a single American remained in a Communist bloodstained dungeon."

"On this matter Secretary Dulles and I are in complete disagreement," McCarthy said.

"In a republic such as ours there must be room for honest difference of opinion. I respect the honesty and sincerity of purpose of Secretary Dulles."

"However, I have such deep convictions on this subject that I shall continue to discuss the matter at every opportunity and I urge Secretary Dulles to reappraise our whole policy in this regard.

"It is my hope that such a reappraisal may result in a change of policy in this respect."

Was Reply to Punch

McCarthy's statement was a reply to the one-two punch thrown at him by Eisenhower and Dulles as a result of McCarthy's radio-TV speech last week criticizing administration foreign policy.

Dulles hit at McCarthy's views Tuesday as striking at the very heart of United States foreign policy. Yesterday, President Eisenhower said he was in full accord with Dulles' statements.

Eisenhower also took issue with the Wisconsin senator's declaration that the Communists in government issue will be a major one in next year's congressional election.

The President appeared, however, to have left the door open for full-blast continuation of congressional hunts for spies and subversives during the Truman administration.

U.S. Call Is Backed by Delegates

Bitter Soviet Opposition Is Given; Vote Is 42 to 5 With 10 Abstentions

United Nations, Dec. 3 (AP)—The UN General Assembly today expressed its "grave concern" at Red atrocities in Korea and approved an American call for stiff condemnation of such actions.

Over bitter Soviet opposition, the 60-nation assembly approved a western-sponsored resolution of condemnation by a vote of 42 to 5 with 10 absentions.

The balloting followed three days of vitriolic debate in which Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. of the United States charged the North Koreans and Chinese Communists of killing nearly 38,000 UN soldiers and civilians in Korea as a part of high Kremlin policy.

The five negative votes were cast by the Soviet bloc. The 10 absentions were mostly by Asian and Arab nations.

Specific Points

According to terms of the resolution, sponsored by the U. S., Britain, France, Turkey and Australia, the assembly specifically:

"1. Expresses its grave concern at reports and information that North Korean and Chinese Communist forces have, in a large number of instances, employed inhuman practices against the heroic soldiers of forces under the United Nations command in Korea and against the civilian population in Korea.

"2. Condemns the commission by any governments or authorities of murder, mutilation, torture, and other atrocious acts against captured military personnel or civilian populations, as a violation of rules of international law and basic standards of conduct and morality and as affronting human rights and the dignity and worth of the human person."

Vishinsky said he and his allies voted against the resolution because it was "libelous, spurious and hypocritical."

India already had announced she would not vote on the resolution, explaining this was because of her position as head of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

Stinging Denunciation

Before the vote, a heated debate had included stinging denunciation of Red atrocities by a parade of western nations and angry counter thrusts from the Soviet bloc. The latter sought to prove that American and South Korean troops were the real atrocity perpetrators.

The final result was a verbal duel between Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., and Russia's Andrei Vishinsky.

At the peak of the debate, Lodge charged that North Korea's military commander, Gen. Nam Il, masterminded the bloody Koje prison riots during the armistice negotiations at Panmunjom. Lodge also challenged Russia to let an international Red Cross committee make an unfettered check of the U. S.-alleged Red atrocities in Korea.

In quick retort, Vishinsky angrily denounced the Nam Il charge as "absurd" and unsupported by facts. The Russian declared the American challenge for a Red Cross probe was "an 11th hour approach, obviously of a demagogic nature."

Court Sets Jan. 18 For Execution of Convicted Slayers

Case Goes to Governor; Westchester Court Is to Rule on Writ of Error

Albany, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Court of Appeals today set the week of Jan. 18, 1954, for the execution of three men in the holdup murder of a Reader's Digest magazine messenger.

At the same time, the court denied the slayers' motion for reargument.

Their case now goes to Gov. Dewey, who is expected to hold up the execution pending the determination by the Westchester County Court of an application for a writ of coram nobis.

(Coram nobis is a proceeding under which a court is permitted to correct its own error.)

Reargument Denied

The Court of Appeals denied the reargument motion "without prejudice." This would permit it to approve a similar motion at a later date if the facts warrant.

The three are Nathan Wissner, 42, of Brooklyn and Harry A. Stein, 55 and Calman Cooper, 46, both of Manhattan.

They were convicted Dec. 21, 1950, of the murder of Andrew Petrini, 33, of Mount Kisco, during a truck robbery on grounds of the Reader's Digest plant at Chappaqua, Westchester county, April 3, 1950.

The state's highest tribunal upheld the conviction on March 6, 1952. But the executions were stayed pending unsuccessful ap-

Eight Persons Killed In Louisiana Twister

Alexandria, La., Dec. 3 (AP)—State police reported today that a tornado slashed across central Louisiana in a northeasterly direction, killing eight persons.

The state police said six died when the twister hit the town of Leander in Vernon parish and two more were killed in Tullos in La Salle parish.

Reports said the twister also struck at Hineston and Dry Prong in Rapides parish and at other communities, but further details were not immediately available.

Can Shortage Faces Citrus Industry

Strike Against Concerns Idles 73 Plants in U. S., Canada

Pittsburgh, Dec. 3 (AP)—A can shortage faced the citrus industry today as the result of a strike against the nation's two largest can manufacturers. No settlement is in sight.

The strike by the CIO United Steelworkers at 73 plants of American Can Co. and Continental Can Co. in the United States and Canada has almost throttled production.

Citrus canners in Folrida, where operations are at their peak, have expressed the most concern. Some say their stocks of cans will run out in a matter of days.

And one canner predicted the state's citrus industry will face "one of the most serious crises in its history" if the strike is prolonged.

First Layoffs Reported

The first layoffs resulting from the strike were reported in Indianapolis, Ind., where Stokely-Van Camp furloughed 280 workers. American supplies this firm.

In Pittsburgh, Federal Mediator George Woomer said negotiations are at dead center. No peace talks are scheduled. Woomer declined to speculate on the possible duration of the strike.

Representatives of the two firms left Pittsburgh for their New York headquarters yesterday. They said they had heard nothing from the union since the strike began Tuesday midnight.

Union bargainers scattered to their homes throughout the country immediately after negotiations deadlocked and the walkout started.

Employ 33,000

American Can and Continental together employ 33,000 USW members who walked off the job. Some 27,000 employes belonging to other unions are not affected. However, only a comparatively small number of these are production workers.

An official of American Can said two of its non-struck plants can supply normal citrus canner demands for a couple of weeks.

Zoning Board Decision May Have Effect on Businesses, Industries in Home Areas

Important Hearing Is Held by Board on Four Applications — Opposition Is Marked, Avis Says

A decision of the Kingston Zoning Board on the operation of small businessess and industries on home properties in residential areas may have a widespread effect on such practices, Attorney Joseph Avis, chairman of the board, indicated following one of the city's more important zoning hearings last night in the city court room.

The hearing on four applications affecting present residential status in separate areas of the city brought out a marked opposition of home owners against allowing any type of business or industry in a residential area, and also revealed that such a trend exists in the city.

Those opposing last night's applications stressed that to allow any business or industry, even on the smallest scale, might lead to later expansion and violations of the residential character and atmosphere of a neighborhood, and those favoring the applicants pointed to existing violations of the rule.

Examples Are Cited

Among examples cited were the small-scale use of home properties in the needle trade and the use of private garages in the conduct of small businesses or industries.

Last night's applicants were Mrs. Corliss Sedaker, of 236 Albany avenue, who seeks to operate a tea room in conjunction with her tourists' home; Thomas Fitzgerald, 279 West Chestnut street, who would use a garage for the storing of tile; Dominic Perry of 19 Lindsley avenue, who wants to use a private garage in conjunction with his dairy business, and Milton Canfield, of 236 Hasbrouck avenue, who seeks to build a garage nearer the street than allowed by law.

Among the opinions expressed at the session, which was attended by 255 interested persons, was a proposal that something should be done to prohibit the use of neon signs in residential areas and that such areas should be generally better protected by zoning law amendments.

Application Denied

The board denied the Sedaker application giving the applicant the right to apply to the Supreme Court for a ruling. The denial was on the grounds that the zoning board has no jurisdiction to change any zone.

Attorney Andrew J. Cook was among those who opposed the Sedaker application. He said he had lived on Albany avenue many years and he could forsee ultimate depreciation of property values with any laxity in zoning regulations.

Albany avenue has many large home properties, Attorney Cook said, and he felt that some part of the street should be preserved in its residential character. Others against the application included Attorney Sherwood E. Davis, who represented a group of opposing property owners, Fred Carpenter, Thomas Horton, who fowarded his opinion in writing, and Arthur A. Davis, Sr.

Judie's Restaurant was cited as one business on the street, which began on a small scale and expanded through the years.

The board granted the Canfield

Laniel Arrives For Big 3 Parley

His Determination Solid for Long Term Aid From Other Two

Tucker's Town, Bermuda, Dec. 3 (AP) — France's Premier Joseph Laniel arrived today for the Big Three Bermuda conference, reportedly determined to press for new long term pledges of support in Europe from Britain and the United States.

Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden were on hand at Kindley Field to meet Laniel, his foreign minister Georges Bidault, and a team of 17 experts from the French Foreign Office. President Eisenhower will arrive tomorrow for the five days of conferences which open that afternoon.

Laniel was reported also ready to tell Britain and the United States that France is prepared to examine any peace offers made officially by Ho Chi Minh, the Moscow-educated general who has been directing the long war in Indochina against the French.

Major U. S. Task

To the Americans, the major task of the confernece is to prod the balky French National Assembly into ratifying the European Defence Community (EDC) pact. It provides for a unified West European Army including troops from France's longtime enemy, Germany.

Laniel can promise nothing because his government must resign Jan. 17, a month after France's new president is elected. But he reportedly was bringing a raft of conditions which French sources say must be met before there is any chance for assembly approval of German rearmament.

Items Included

These include:

(1) British-American agreement to pressure the West Germans into agreeing that the Saar basin, rich in coal and steel, will remain politically autonomous but linked economically to France. It was German before World War 2 and the Germans want it back.

(2) British and American assurances that they won't pull their troops off the continent of Europe and leave the French to face rearmed Germans alone.

(3) Continued American help against the Communist-led rebels in Indochina, or allied diplomatic support for a negotiated settlement with Ho Chi Minh's forces.

(4) British-American agreement to Moscow's proposal for a Big Four foreign ministers meeting.

Of these, only the Saar means a major stumbling block.

Resurgent West Germany so far has given no sign of conceding anything on the question.

JusticeDepartment Denies Laxity in Tampering Case

Report Is 19 FBI Men Aid Investigation; Olney Speaks on Matter

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Justice Department, denying laxity or refusal to aid in a Denver Grand Jury tampering case, says 19 FBI agents aided in the investigation.

U. S. District Judge Willis W. Ritter had said last week that the department had refused to assist in an inquiry into jury tampering by Denver gamblers. The judge, then sitting in Denver, could not be reached last night at his home in Salt Lake City.

The Justice Department statement late yesterday did not mention the judge but referred to a "political discussion" of the case —an obvious reference to a discussion of it by Clayton Fritchey deputy chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Says Case Reopened

Fritchey, in a television appearance Sunday, declared that Atty. Gen. Brownell reopened the controversial Harry Dexter White case, in part, to divert attention from "a serious situation within the Justice Department." He mentioned Judge Ritter's remarks.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Warren Olney 3rd took not of comments that the Denver case "had been in some way mishandled," and he declared: "There is no substance to this assertion."

Olney said he issued the statement, as head of the Justice Department's Criminal Division, because he had direct supervision of the Denver case. Brownell did not handle it directly, he said.

Olney said 19 FBI agents worked on the jury tampering

New Jersey Man to Offer Delaware River Measure

Franklin Borough, N. J., Dec. 3 (AP)—State Sen. Alfred B. Littell (R.-Sussex) today detailed a bill which he says will divide up the water in the Delaware river so that everyone gets more.

Littell said he plans to introduce the bill tomorrow when a special session of the state Legislature convenes.

The basic idea of Littell's bill is to let New York build a reservoir and Pennsylvania a dam on the Delaware river. New Jersey would be allowed to keep tapping the stream for a hundred million gallons a day and get up to 30 per cent of the water from the Pennsylvania dam, by paying a proportionate share of the construction cost.

It's been a knotty problem for a long time—who can take how much water from the river, and how to keep from draining it dry in the northern parts.

The Legislature will be asked to amend a pact between Pennsylvania and New Jersey which has been on the books since 1783. That pact agrees neither state will interfere with flow of the river by putting dams on the main channel.

Littell's bill includes these main points:

1. Pennsylvania may construct a dam across the river at Wallpack Bend near the Sussex county border. The dam would catch flood waters and release them at times of low water in the summer.

2. If New Jersey decides to chip in on the cost, it may have some of the water from a reservoir created in back of the dam.

3. Pennsylvania will pay for any New Jersey land needed to build the dam.

4. The New Jersey law will be effective only if the Pennsylvania Legislature acts before July 1, 1955.

5. The New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development will be in charge of procedures under the law.

The bill, says Littell, is the start of a plan calculated to provide Jerseyans with enough water over the next 50 years.

But, he says, it is necessary that New Jersey act immediately, because of action being taken now by New York and the rules which the U. S. Supreme Court has set down.

Littell says the bill has the approval of Gov. Alfred Driscoll's administration and is non-partisan in nature.

The bill also will allow New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey to formalize an agreement permitting New York to construct a big reservoir at Cannonsville, just northeast of the Pennsylvania corner.

The proposed Cannonsville reservoir will store water from the Delaware when it is high, and release it when the river is low. New Yorkers will get more water for drouth times, but so will her southern neighbors.

Littel said today he thought the Legislature would put off until next year another proposal he sponsors—a legislative study of proposed New Jersey reservoirs. These reservoirs are the 3,500-acre Round valley tract in Hunterdon county and the 100,000-acre Wharton tract in Atlantic, Burlington and Camden counties.

"The provisions of my Delaware river bill are a start—a vital start prompted by an emergency now," Littell said." Its enactment will be in the best interest of our state and our neighbors and we will be acting to safeguard the future."

Sentence Is Upheld

Albany, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Court of Appeals today upheld the prison sentence of James J. Moran, former first deputy fire commissioner of New York city, on conspiracy and extortion charges involving shakedowns of a half-million a-year from fuel oil equipment installers. Moran was convicted Feb. 5, 1952, of conspiracy and 23 counts of extortion. The decision was unanimous. There was no opinion.

High Brass Asks Pay Boost To Halt Forces Deterioration

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP) — A group of generals and admirals called today for a military pay boost and other actions to halt what they termed an alarming deterioration in the career military service.

"Military service has lost much of its attractiveness as a career," said a study committee named by Secretary of Defense Wilson last spring at the direction of President Eisenhower.

"Unless the present trend of career personnel leaving the service can be reversed, most serious consequences to the national defense effort will result."

Asst. Secretary of Defense John Hannah, in making public the report of the five-man committee, said it would receive careful attention from the military services, the Defense Department and the joint chiefs of staff. Hannah added that release of the report implied neither its approval nor acceptance in every respect.

An earlier report submitted by the group, headed by Rear Adm. J. P. Womble, Jr., was turned back by Hannah for further study and re-writing. The report as issued today, moreover, omitted the committee's specific allocation of blame for many of the weaknesses the group found in the current military morale situation.

It is understood that the report as completed by the group listed the public, the press, Congress and the President's own Bureau of the Budget as being among sources of the difficulties it concluded exist.

In addition to Adm. Womble, the committee was made up of Maj. Gen. R. M. Young, army; Rear Adm. M. E. Arnold, navy; Maj. Gen. M. J. Lee, air force, and Brig. Gen. N. H. Nelson, marine corps.

Among its conclusions and recommendations, the committee said:

1. There is a "positive danger" that budget cutting considerations might be permitted to "transcend" the attainment of combat effectiveness which "must be achieved at whatever cost."

2. The Defense Department should press for a cost of living increase in military pay scales as

Boys Admit Damage

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons said today that vandalism, including the breaking of several windows, in the former Ruzzo Bowlatorium on Grand street, was traced to a group of boys. They admitted breaking the windows with slingshots and causing lesser damage inside the building over a period of several weeks, the officers said.

Brooklyn Tenants Lose Electricity in New Ouster Move

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—About 125 families in two Brooklyn veterans housing projects ordered out of the projects almost two years ago, lost their electricity yesterday in a further move to oust them.

The Manhattan Beach and Marine Park projects, consisting of converted barracks and summer bungalows, were emergency developments after World War 2. They once accommodated almost 2,000 families.

The tenants first were ordered out in January, 1952. After long legal delays, the state Legislature passed a law fixing last Monday as the deadline.

The court action by the State Housing Commission to obtain eviction of the remaining families still is pending.

Herman T. Stitchman, state housing commissioner, said that by law he also should cut off cooking gas and steam heat. But, Stitchman added, he hasn't "the heart" to do it.

A tenants' committee claims that, among the projects' remaining residents, several are ill, one woman tenant is pregnant and has a sick child, that another just returned from a hospital with a new baby.

The tenants went into Brooklyn Magistrate's Court yesterday seeking to restore the electricity. The case was put over to Dec. 9.

City Housing authorities said they have offered accommodations to the remaining tenants.

The families claim they are awaiting occupancy in new developments where building has been delayed, or have expressed dissatisfaction with the facilities offered by the city.

Two Persons Die In Texas Tornado

Washington-on - the - Brazos, Tex., Dec. 3 (AP)—Seven Texas communities viewed tornado damage today after black funnels dipped with twisting winds into their midsts yesterday.

Two persons, members of a Negro family whose house was carried 54 yards by the violent winds, died in a storm near this historic site of the signing in 1836 of Texas' declaration of independence from Mexico.

The other twisters struck near Hearne, Lufkin, Seguin, Tanglewood, Huntsville and Lance City in the southeast portion of central Texas.

He's Slightly Sentimental

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 3 (AP)—State Highway Engineer Edward W. Kilpatrick, ordinarily all business, today revealed he is as sentimental as the rest of us. His department is going to widen and repave a section of Route 24—the first concrete highway ever built in New Jersey. It would mean burying the last bit of original concrete, laid down in 1912. "That's a little more than I could reconcile myself to," said Kilpatrick, and ordered a five-foot square of the old pavement cut out and saved. It will be set into the new pavement at the surface for all to see. Kilpatrick was an engineer for the contracting firm that built the road 40 years ago.

HOW TO ECONOMIZE

One road to economy has never been tried by the federal government. This is the adoption of the British rule by which the legislature may reduce but cannot increase the expenditure proposed by the executive. Now the President submits his budget. The House can increase the proposed expenditures, and the Senate in turn can vote more money than the House calls for. Henry Hazlitt, writing in Newsweek, calls attention to this unfortunate state of affairs.

New York State has already adopted a system such as he suggests. There the governor's budget not only gives estimated expenses, but must be accompanied by a bill or bills containing all proposed appropriations and any needed new taxes. Under the state constitution the legislature's power of changing the governor's budget can be exercised only in a downward direction. It may omit any appropriation or reduce it. It cannot add to it.

No appropriation bill except the governor's may be considered until the latter is finally acted on. When that has been done, the legislature may call for special appropriations, but must do so in single bills subject to the governor's vote, not in an omnibus measure, which would encourage logrolling.

Unfortunately a constitutional amendment would probably be necessary to introduce the new system. This would take two thirds of both Senate and House. Now there is no power to which congressmen more jealously cling than that of passing appropriations which appeal to influential constituents.

Despite the difficulty of bringing about Hazlitt's reform, the Eisenhower administration would perform a public service if it called attention to the importance of enacting it.

THE SEAWAY'S CHANCES

An issue popularly supposed to be national, but really local in some aspects is the St. Lawrence Seaway. This has recently been brought to attention by the announcement of Senator-designate Thomas A. Burke of Ohio, successor of Robert A. Taft, that he favors the waterway.

Generally speaking, Great Lakes states are for it, while those on the seaboard oppose. One set hopes to gain business, the other fears to lose. Where railroad influence is strong, the waterway, which would compete, is weak. This combination of local interests has been strong enough to defeat the project again and again, despite the fact that every president from Harding through Truman has favored it. President Eisenhower took no prominent stand until recently when he declared hmself in favor of it.

The St. Lawrence power will be developed jointly by Canada and New York state, the federal government having no share in this project, which is separate from the seaway project, though closely connected with it in plan and action.

It is natural for Congress to consider primarily what the separate states want, paying little attention to the effect on the nation as a whole. Congressmen are elected by districts or states and not by the whole country. Only the president has a national constituency. That is why, in many controversies between President and Congress, wise voters support the president.

Whether smoke, smog or smaze, many people in the eastern part of the country now have new respect for some of the less desired powers of nature.

AN INDEPENDENT SAAR?

The Saar valley would like to be independent. This region of coal and iron abundance has, like the Ruhr, been called a second Pittsburgh. Its wealth has caused it to be contested between Germany, whose language it shares, and France, which controls its administration. Both countries would like to own it.

Left to itself, the Saar would follow the ties of blood and vote German. The same pull led it, in the early days of the Nazis, to vote for reunion with Germany, an impulsive act which brought the Saar devastation and ruin in World War II. Now Saarlanders have learned wisdom. They feel that reunion with Germany would involve the region in the larger area's problems. It might be safer to be independent of both France and Germany.

DISINTEGRATION

The Republican Party, after 20 years out of power, still finds it difficult to develop sufficient political leadership to produce a passable legislative program for Congress and a fighting organization among the people. The death of Senator Robert A. Taft left a void that has not yet been filled. President Eisenhower continues to remain aloof from party politics. The 1954 campaign is already here, but the Republicans are quarreling among themselves because no one exhibits the strength to compose the differences among the various leaders.

The realistic fact is that President Eisenhower does not like being a politician. He has never been a politician. He has been a brilliant success as a soldier and has achieved distinction as a diplomat, but not as a technical party politician.

Nevertheless, two-party politics is the method by which the United States governs itself. The alternative to our system would be a revolution by which one party or one individual would prevail. The danger is that unless President Eisenhower assumes the political leadership of the Republican Party, it will dissipate itself into a disastrous factionalism.

Even Franklin D. Roosevelt, as astute a politician as history records, could not treat elected officials, Senators and Representatives, and Cabinet members as though they were top sergeants. He might have fooled them by his brilliant double-talk, he might have cajoled them by patronage, but he never ignored them.

I was present at the dinner of the B'nai B'rith in Washington at which the President delivered a speech that could be interpreted as a pleasantry or an attack on Senators McCarthy and Jenner, on his own Attorney General, Herbert Brownell, Jr., and on the Director of the FBI, J. Edgar Hoover. It was not a good speech because, on the whole, it was unsuited for the occasion, but it was pleasant in spots.

This was on Monday night. On Tuesday night, Senator Joe McCarthy hit back with a block-buster that shook and split the Republican Party. Obviously, Joe McCarthy accepted Monday night's challenge and got even. Considering the mildness of the President's statement on Monday, McCarthy's reply on Tuesday was too strong. Maybe he wanted it that way to bring on a test of strength. The immediate effect is a very split party.

Now, if Eisenhower decides to even the score, the cleavage within the Republican Party will continue to widen until, in 1954, the Democrats could win both the House and the Senate. In some states, such as Massachusetts, McCarthy can win the election for the Republicans or he can bring on a defeat for his own party. Practical politicians recognize his immense strength. They blame Eisenhower for permitting any individual in his party to grow politically stronger than the President. Nevertheless, they admit that they have no way of reaching Eisenhower on a political level.

The Democrats are not divided on the single point of winning in 1954. Their actual disagreements are deeper than those which exist among Republicans, but they are now united on the question of 1954. Their quarrels have been postponed until after that date. The Republicans cannot display a similar party discipline.

In the Eisenhower Cabinet, only two members understand politics. They are the Attorney General, Herbert Brownell, Jr., and the Postmaster General, Arthur E. Summerfield. If either of these men were given a free hand to bring the party together, he could do it. But the President seems not to be ready for that.

The President is a lovable personality. It could be said that he is the most lovable personality that has been in the White House in recent years. Nobody wants to be against him. Nobody questions his moral stature. But he proved in 1952 that he cannot transfer the affection the people have for him to anyone else; he did not win the Senate or the House. If, in 1954, he loses even his nominal majority, if the Democrats are able to produce an actual majority in both Houses, his last two years in office will be disastrous. It is not good for the country if the President is of one party and the Congress of another.

THE AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION FUND

It is told of a family physician who saw so many of his patients die of cancer that, having saved a certain amount of money, he decided to give his whole time till his money was exhausted in investigation of the cause of cancer. Fortunately, cancer organizations finally came to his aid and he was abe to give his whole time to cancer research.

Even more dangerous to health and life are diseases of the heart and bloodvessels, so that it is gratifying to learn more about the American Heart Association and the wonderful work they are doing, thanks to the generosity of the public who see active, brilliant men and women of their community being stricken with heart disease.

In a News Release, the American Heart Association reports a 5-year record of Research Awards which were made possible by public contributions to the 1952 Heart Fund campaign. These contributions provide for investigation to be conducted in a wide area of applied and basic research during the 1953-1954 fiscal year. Even during its first year of existence, out of its very limited resources, it was able to appropriate $222,432 for 45 fellowships and research grants.

"Grants-in-aid are made on the basis of specific, acceptable projects, to experienced investigators working in non-profit institutions, medical schools, hospitals and laboratories, who have demonstrated their productiveness and who otherwise show promise of accumulating useful information.

"Special research includes a cooperative study being conducted by the American Heart Association on the relative effectiveness of the hormone ACTH and cortisone in the treatment of rheumatic fever and the prevention of rheumatic heart disease. A mechanical heart, a heart-lung machine, and an artificial kidney are also being tested as possible aids to research and surgery." Studies are being made of cholesterol and other fatty substances which have been found to leave fat deposits against the walls of bloodvessels which are a big factor in the hardening of bloodvessels.

Also being studied is the role of heredity and environment in high blood pressure on the bloodvessel walls, the use of drugs to check blood clotting, and the effects of various drugs on the heart, bloodvessel and blood pressure.

Where a research physician is making special progress in heart and bloodvessel diseases, the American Heart Association is providing $8,400 toward twelve-month training course for heart and bloodvessel investigators at the Medical College of Georgia, Augusta.

Just One Facet of Our American Sense of Fair Play

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—A private report on the present organization and aims of the now openly recognized Communist Party of Guatemalan workers reveals the full power which this movement now holds over Guatemalan politics and its menace for all of Latin-America.

The Guatemalan government and its spokesman in the United States, Ambassador Dr. Don Guillermo Toriello, are inclined to scoff at this movement as a threat. They ask, "How could Guatemala, a banana-growing republic south of Mexico, no bigger than Tennessee, be any danger to the entire Western Hemisphere?" The group is considered political amateurs, and Article 32 of the Guatemalan Constitution forbids the formation of "political organizations of a foreign or international character."

The importance of the Communist movement in Guatemala is that it has been able to evade this restriction. It is the dominant member of the National Democratic Front, a four-party coalition that controls Guatemalan politics. And it has open support from Guatemala's president, Col. Jacobo Arbenz.

Party Organized

The Communist movement in Guatemala is a well-disciplined political party. It is organized like the Communist Party of Russia, with a secretariat of six, a political committee of 11, which meets every three months and a party Congress which meets every three years.

The secretary general of the party, and founder, is Jose Manuel Fortuny, a 38-year-old former employe of Sterling Products Co. in Guatemala. He is a smart political operator. He has apparently won recognition from Moscow.

Communism first came to Guatemala as an active force after the 1944 revolution which overthrew the 13-year dictatorship of Gen. Jorge Ubico. It drew to Guatemala political exiles and foreign radicals. Among them were Alfonso Solorzano, a Mexican labor lawyer closely associated with Vincente Lombardo Toledano, and Miguel Marmol, an El Salvador labor organizer.

General Ubico's regime had outlawed unions. So communism crept in as a clandestine activity in the new labor organizations.

It was three years after the revolution that Fortuny formed a Democratic Vanguard group, which in 1949 became the Communist Party of Guatemala. It was at first an underground organization, but with the inauguration of President Arbenz in 1951, it moved into the open.

It is now revealed that Communist leadership comes largely from "ladinos." A ladino is a person who has adopted western standards of dress and culture. The group includes schoolteachers, university students and ex-employes of foreign enterprises in Guatemala. These young intellectuals now dominate the party organization. On the 11-member political committee, all are between 27 and 38 years old.

Party Members

The rank-and-file strength of the organization comes from the labor-union movement. In 1950, Victor Manuel Gutierrez, a 29-year-old schoolteacher turned labor leader, formed the Revolutionary Workers Party and he became an avowed Communist.

The Gutierrez party coexisted with the Fortuny party for about a year. Then the two leaders went to Moscow. When they returned, Gutierrez announced the dissolution of his party. It was merged with the Fortuny group, which was recognized by the Cominform. Gutierrez became secretary general of the Labor Confederation, and a member of the secretariat and political committee.

In December, 1952, Fortuny's Communist Party changed its name to the Party of Guatemalan Workers in order to obtain legal registration as a political organization.

The party now claims 1500 members. But there are 100,000 members of labor unions under Communist control. And when it is remembered that only 415,000 votes were cast for president, its power is at once apparent. Another major element of strength is the Confederation of National Field Workers, a small farmers' union of which Leonardo Castillo Flores is secretary general.

The party has infiltrated nearly every government agency—particularly the rich institute of Social Security Administration and the National Agrarian Department which handles land reform. Nearly every Communist official has been on the government payroll at one time or other. Its leaders sit with the Arbenz cabinet.

It is the only party with an active program and today it holds a position of power, ready to extend its influence over all Guatemalan and Latin-American affairs.

Headlines on Eisenhower-McCarthy Split Are Held as Untrue in Nature

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 3—For several days now the headlines have been implying that President Eisenhower and Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin have "broken." It just isn't true. For if a difference of opinion on whether Communists in government is going to be an issue in the coming political campaigns means a "break," then Mr. Eisenhower must be considered as having "broken" with more Republicans than the senator from Wisconsin. Even differences on foreign policy have heretofore not caused the President to "break" with members of his party. For Senator Knowland, the Republican leader, doesn't always see eye to eye with the State Department.

Since Mr. Eisenhower made his first comment to his press conference last week that he hoped the issue of Communists in government would be a memory by the time of the 1954 campaign, five Republican senators have differed with the President by expressing the belief that it really would be an issue. They are:

1. Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the Armed Services Committee of the Senate.
2. Senator Eugene Milliken of Colorado, chairman of the Finance Committee and head of the Republican conference of the Senate.
3. Senator William E. Jenner of Indiana, chairman of the Committee on Rules and Administration and also chairman of the Subcommittee on Internal Security.
4. Senator Ives of New York, chairman of the Subcommittee on Labor.
5. Senator Welker of Idaho, member of the Agriculture Committee.

When President Eisenhower reiterated at his press conference on Wednesday of this week that he expected Communists in government to be an issue in the 1954 congressional campaigns, he issued a prepared statement on the subject.

There has been steady pressure at the White House from "left wingers" and others who don't know much about politics—except perhaps from the standpoint of what benefits the Democrats—to persuade Mr. Eisenhower that he must demonstrate dramatically to the country that he is anti-McCarthy. The people who have advised the President along this line seem to have forgotten that McCarthy as an individual senator can be readily attacked, but this leaves in its wake a considerable disaffection among millions of Republicans who believe McCarthy has been doing a good job in awakening the Congress and the executive branch of the government to the menace of Communist infiltration in the government.

What seems difficult to understand is Mr. Eisenhower's belief that all that's necessary to eradicate the issue of Communists in government from politics is to eliminate them from the government under his own administration. That's a rather naive approach, and undoubtedly it is also the innocent approach of some of his inexperienced advisers.

The truth is that, if Communists are driven out of the government now, what assurance is there that, if a Democratic administration returns to power in 1956, the Communist sympathizers will not get back again into positions of influence? Must the party out of power not be held responsible for its sins, especially when the recent reaction of its leaders to the Harry Dexter White case shows they have learned nothing by it? The importance of the 1954 congressional elections is that, if the Democrats get back into control of both Houses and some of their so-called "liberals" become chairmen of congressional committees, the work that has to be done to check executive agencies constantly will be regarded as finished because of the Eisenhower pronouncement, and inquiries will be abandoned.

Yet the record shows that the executive agencies cannot do their own house-cleaning because often the facts are mobilized by congressional investigators or facts are brought out in committee hearings that could never be detected in departmental hearings. William Remington, recently convicted of perjury in denying that he was a Communist, was cleared by departmental boards. Alger Hiss was never caught till he testified before a congressional committee. There are many instances where the statute of limitations has run and only by congressional inquiry can facts be brought to light that show contacts between government personnel already "cleared" and persons outside the government whose connections are dubious.

Mr. Eisenhower cannot possibly control or censor what is said in a congressional campaign either by the members of his own party or the opposing party. If he thinks he can get a commitment from the Democrats to avoid attacking "McCarthyism" in the 1954 campaign, then maybe not much will be said about the Communists-in-government issue. But Mr. Eisenhower is not in control of what the Democrats may say on this, and many of them think "McCarthyism" will be an issue. So it seems rather pointless for Mr. Eisenhower to lend himself to any schemes to discipline members of his party for openly expressing their own ideas as to the 1954 campaign.

Nothing can hurt a President more quickly than the impression that he wants to muzzle the members of his own party. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman tried "purges" to their sorrow. Somebody ought really to give Mr. Eisenhower a few pointers on how to avoid friction in his own party because the people who are pressing him to start a row inside his party aren't really Republicans of influence but "left wingers," and their concepts are largely of the New Deal-Fair Deal variety. The kind of voters who want a McCarthy-Eisenhower fight aren't going to vote Republican next time anyhow. They are mostly Stevenson-Truman followers. The Democrats hereabouts are already rejoicing over the prospects of a wreckage of the Republican party in Congress at the next session.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Dec. 2—The cheery voice of Bob Moses asked, "have you seen the Ickes diary?" I said, "No, but Ray Moley wrote that it showed he cultivated Drew Pearson by keeping the Droop's old man on the public payroll, and Ray added, 'it belongs with Pepys, Marco Polo and other fictioneers, including Quentin Reynolds' latest.'"

"I have got a galley proof," Mr. Moses gushed. "I am sending it right over. You will enjoy every word of it. Read the parts I have marked."

The package arrived and the marked portions proved to be an unabashed admission by one of the chief crooks of the foul regime that FDR tried to throw Moses off the Tri-Borough Bridge Commission because Moses had caught him stealing $5,000 a year from the public treasury. The first entry read:

"We had a staff meeting of PWA. I have been insisting that Mayor LaGuardia must get rid of Robert Moses as a member of his Tri-Borough Bridge Commission. This has been at the instance of the President.

"It seems that Moses is a bitterly persistent enemy of the President's and the President has a feeling of dislike for him that I haven't seen him express with respect to any other person. I have called La Guardia twice. I told him I did not see why we should be expected to go on in a federal project with a man who has criticized the federal administration as bitterly as Moses has. I decided not to make allocations for any more projects in New York city until this has been adjusted. I am considering refusing to honor requisitions for funds on pending projects."

This is Ickes' capsule evaluation of Roosevelt's personal and public honor. Roosevelt had tried to plant Louis McHenry Howe, his personal flunkey, on the payroll of the Taconic Park Commission at $5,000 a year. He had then made the mistake of assuming that Moses was as crooked as he was. Accordingly he had remarked to Mr. Moses, who was head of the board, that of course Howe would give only a few hours a week to the job. Moses said nothing doing. For this, Roosevelt hated Moses so fiercely that when Moses wrote an official report on bad banking practices after a scandalous failure, Roosevelt ignored it and appointed a "commission" to "study" the subject all over again.

One of the men appointed to make this study was an official of the Bank of the United States, which Moses had pointedly criticized. The Bank of the United States itself failed soon after that. Roosevelt's hatred over a personal matter was so influential that he ignored a truly prophetic warning when an honest man might have saved the victims millions of dollars and spared the nation a serious economic shock.

I inquired of Moses some years ago whether the account of the Howe and the banking incidents, taken from John T. Flynn's "Country Squire in the White House," was correct. He said it was.

Now to return to Ickes' confession. He tells of newspaper attacks provoked by his attempt to "get" Moses to avenge Roosevelt.

"I have done this," he wrote, "at the President's specific request. I don't know Moses. From all accounts he is a highly disagreeable and unpleasant person." This from a swine who frankly called himself a curmudgeon, a comprehensive term for a despicable person, and who confides, as he goes along, that he swiped rare stamps for his own collection and Roosevelt's out of the public files. He planted one of his girl friends on one payroll for a synthetic job of no value to the taxpayers and when his wife was killed and he was sole legatee, he deducted from the taxable estate the cost of his wreath for her grave and the shroud that wrapped her.

Ickes admitted that Moses had done "great things for New York and the state in developing a wonderful park system." He had even "served both county and state without pay," a further offense against the sordid mercenary code. LaGuardia stalled, promised and, of course, lied, for he was of the same breed, but he flinched from the roar of the crowd. Ickes then hit upon the trick of refusing to honor requisitions for any project where the supervisors also held a state or local office. Roosevelt helped him draft that one and Roosevelt explained it to LaGuardia. The papers roared and Ickes said that LaGuardia, not Roosevelt nor himself, was the scoundrel who had "followed a crooked course." Finally he called LaGuardia an accomplished double-crosser and "a great disappointment to me." But he says that, at his press conference "I had to lie" and deny that Roosevelt had any interest in the scandal.

It may be drawing a fine decision to recognize Ickes as the lowest of the low in that regime. There is dishonor enough for all.

William W. Hall, the current president of Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., has written me a denial that Winston Churchill got $4,000 for his "Iron Curtain" speech on March 5, 1946. Instead he says, Churchill was an honored guest and his "compensation" was a painting by Thomas Hart Benton and an inscribed watch. The source of the $4,000 version was "Man of Independence" by Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, one of Truman's selfless secretaries, who cited Truman as his authority. It had not occurred to me to doubt this great New Deal editor's reliability. I am abashed. I apologize to Mr. Churchill and congratulate Westminster on a bargain.

However, I admit one flagrant error of my very own. In transcribing Truman's direct quote as reported by Daniels, I typed it: "I didn't know what he (Churchill) was going to say." Actually, Daniels wrote that Truman said: "I knew what he was going to say."

Very careless of me.

Governor Advises Farmers

Jefferson City (AP)—Missouri's governor, Phil M. Donnelly, hasn't forgot a few farming tricks. He told his press conference recently that the best way to tighten up the soil in the bed of a farm pond is to feed pigs there. If the pigs root around and tramp over the pond bed for a few days very little water drains away when the pond is filled.

Police Are Zoological

Springfield, Mo. (AP)—Springfield police had to search in one day for a poisonous snake, a skunk, and a 200-pound eagle. The skunk was killed, with odorous results. The snake slithered into some brush and got away. So did the giant eagle. It was an iron lawn ornament stolen from a metal company.

U. S. Names Panel Of Three to Work On Paper Walkout

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—The government today set up a three-man panel of mediators in an effort to help settle the New York newspaper strike.

Federal Mediation Service Director Whitley P. McCoy named Walter Maggiolo, the service's general counsel; Frank Brown, director of the service's New York regional office, and Bernard Forman of the New York office of the panel.

Forman up to now has been handling the case for the government.

In messaging New York publishers and the striking AFL Photoengravers Union of the new panel, McCoy said:

"It is my earnest hope that renewed efforts by you with the aid of these representatives of the service will serve to bring about an early settlement and resumption of publication."

Proposal Turned Down

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Publishers have turned down a photo engravers union proposal cutting demands about half, a federal mediator announced, and the city's newspaper strike today went into its sixth day.

U S NAMES —2

Prior to the newspapers' action, the union had rejected a proposal by the publishers for arbitration of four deadlocked issues including wages and hours.

Negotiations were recessed shortly before midnight and will be resumed today (3:15 p. m., EST).

"No progress was made tonight," Federal Mediator Frank H. Brown said.

Brown said representatives of the six struck newspapers turned down a proposal by Local 1 of the AFL International Photo Engravers Union for a package increase of $7.50 a week. He added that the newspapers, represented by the Publishers Assn. of New York City, made no new proposal.

William Mapel, president of the publishers group, told newsmen that "we've made our offer." By this he meant a package of $3.75, which the publishers had offered before the strike of 400 photo engravers started last Saturday.

case which resulted in the conviction of Eugene and Clyde Smaldone on charges of bribery and obstruction of justice.

Charles Vigil, a Democrat who prosecuted the case and who was ousted by Brownell as U. S. attorney at Denver about the time it was completed, said "no one is disputing" that the FBI played a part in the case.

He had said earlier that some of his requests for FBI aid were rejected by the Justice Department. Last night Vigil told a reporter in Denver: "I don't know how many agents were on the case. Just where FBI help started and stopped, I can't say now.

Accidents Are Feared

Boston, Dec. 3 (AP)—A sharp increase in home accidents may result from the current "do-it-yourself" trend now sweeping the country, the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co., reported today. Disabling injuries are suffered by an average of 638,000 persons annually in the United States while doing their own home repair work and refurbishing, the institute's recent survey showed.

fruit industry said so far it has been little affected by the strike. Producers of baby food, coffee and milk predicted trouble if the strike lasts.

A lengthy strike also would hit the steel industry. The cans are made mostly of steel with a thin covering of tin.

The union struck to back up demands for a reported 12-cent hourly wage increase and several fringe benefits. A 10-½-cent hourly pay package offer was rejected. Workers now average $1.80 in U. S. plants and $1.50 in Canadian plants.

Court Sets Jan. 18

peals to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Wissner, Stein and Cooper are in the death house at Sing Sing prison.

Petrini was carrying $4,000 in cash and $35,000 in non-negotiable checks to a bank at Pleasantville for the magazine.

Later the checks were found abandoned.

Fired Fatal Shot

At the trial, Stein and Cooper contended in signed statements that Wissner had fired the fatal shot. The driver of the truck, William Waterbury, 26, of Pleasantville, was bound but not harmed.

A fourth man involved in the holdup, Benny Dorfman, 34, of New York city, also was accused of first-degree murder, but turned state's evidence and testified against the other three.

Dorfman pleaded guilty to a charge of first-degree manslaughter and is serving 10 to 20 years in Greenhaven State Prison.

Justice Elbert T. Gallagher of State Supreme Court imposed the death penalty on Wissner, Stein and Cooper.

The three, in an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, contended that the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution had been breached. They claimed that they had been beaten by state police and that they had not been arraigned promptly.

Stein and Cooper contended they were forced into signing confessions. Wissner objected to the admission of the confessions into evidence at the trial.

On April 8, 1952, Justice Robert M. Jackson stayed their executions.

But the Supreme Court rejected the appeals in a 6-3 decision last June 1. It ruled convictions sometimes may stand even when forced confessions are involved.

State police said Stein, a salesman of novelty jewelry, had been acquitted 21 years ago as a co-defendant in the Vivian Gordon murder case, but had spent 25 years in prison for various robberies.

Vivian Gordon was strangled in New York city after she had started talking to detectives in a vice investigation.

Lansdale to Resign

Albany, Dec. 3 (AP)—Robert T. Lansdale, state social welfare commissioner for the last 10 years, will resign effective Sunday because of his health. The 53-year-old Social Welfare Department head, who was appointed to the $18,242-a-year post June 15, 1943, has been recuperating from illness since the spring of 1952. Deputy Commissioner Raymond W. Houston will take over as acting commissioner Monday, according to the announcement yesterday by Henry Root Stern, chairman of the Social Welfare Board. Lansdale said in his letter of resignation that he would become a consultant to the temporary state commission on fiscal affairs of state government. His salary in that office could not be learned immediately.

Hopes to Get Education

Chicago, Dec. 3 (AP)—A pretty, 18-year-old, hazel-eyed Texas girl hopes to earn her way through college today. Miss Sue White of Big Spring, Tex., will be shooting for that goal when her white-faced Hereford, Lone Star, the grand champion steer of the International Livestock Exposition, is put up for auction. Many exhibitors at North America's largest livestock and grain show predict her 1,015-pound steer will bring a much larger price than the $4.55 a pound paid last year's winner, a shorthorn exhibited by Ohio State University. They point out she is a colorful girl and that the added publicity resulting from her personality could be a big factor in the sale price.

Most of the world's inhabitants live below the 600-foot level.

New Paltz Senior Play Slated Dec. 5

The senior class play at New Paltz High School, Pride and Prejudice, will be presented Saturday at 8:15 p. m. in the auditorium of the school.

Based on the 19th Century novel by Jane Austen, the story is about an English family, the Bennets, with five marriageable daughters.

Mrs. Bennet, played by Miriam Moroch, is the frivolous, socially ambitious mother who has an unquenchable thirst for matchmaking and practices this hobby throughout the play. Walter Paradies plays the tolerant father who helps her raise their five girls of whom docile Jane, played by Alice Murphy, is the eldest.

The other daughters include Sally Haggerty playing the independent Elizabeth, Gertrude Dippel as the irresponsible Lydia and Patricia Mosher as the fretful Catherine. Mary, the clever, pedantic sister is portrayed by Isabel Gibbons and Elizabeth DeGraff is the dutiful maid, Hill.

Bob Cossano personifies a dashing British officer and Alan DuBois and Tony Moriello play the parts of "young men of considerable fortune," to quote Mrs. Bennet.

Others in the cast include Jane Bracken and Joyce Ellis as Lady Lucas and Charlotte Lucas, close friends of the Bennets.

Judy Farrow and Nancy Moehrke play the roles of the sophisticated and conceited Miss Bingle and Lady Catherine de Bourgh. Peter Walthery takes the part of a clergyman who is a suitor of Elizabeth.

The money realized from the sale of tickets will help defray the cost of the yearbook.

Safety Council Has Plans to Prevent Yule Season Fires

A campaign to help prevent Christmas season fires and accidents will be launched by the Ulster County Safety Council. This decision was made at the regular December meeting in the Common Council Chamber at the City Hall Wednesday night at which President Richard Kalish presided.

The Council has obtained material from the National Fire Protection Association regarding the care and treatment of Christmas trees and decorations to reduce the fire hazard. An outline of the preventative measures is being prepared and will be publicized in the near future.

Invites Cooperation

Kalish said, "the Ulster County Safety Council will continue to use all channels available to make everybody more safety conscious. This embraces all branches of safety, including traffic or highway safety, fire prevention, as well as home, farm and water safety. The council invites the help and cooperation of all agencies and organizations to make everybody more safety minded. This is not a job for one organization," Kalish concluded.

It was decided to make another effort to focus attention on the danger of abandoned or unused refrigerators if they are accessible to children playing near or around them. Recent deaths from children being accidentally locked in old refrigerators has focused a great deal of public attention to this problem. The Safety Council suggests that the inner latch be removed or loosened to permit pushing the door open from the inside or the appliance should be locked from the outside.

Late Bulletin

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey and wealthy Mrs. Estelle Auguste of Palm Beach, Fla., today announced they will marry soon. At a news conference in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, Mrs. Auguste, a pretty blonde said: "I really think it's wonderful to at last find a real man. In my orbit I've met so few of them." The couple said the wedding date has not been set, but that it would be some time before Christmas. "She is a wonderful girl," Dempsey said.

In Accord With Ike

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—Leonard W. Hall, Republican national chairman, said at the White House today that GOP congressional and state leaders with whom he has talked are "completely in accord" with President Eisenhower's statement taking issue with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). The Wisconsin senator is critical of administration foreign policy. He contends the administration has been too soft, for example, with respect to some nations' trade with Communist China. "I think the President once again has shown his dynamic leadership of our country," Hall declared. He noted that Eisenhower called the struggle against communism "the battle of the ages," and Hall added: "We are going to be as tough with Commies who have crept into our government as we are firm with communism as a world issue."

Will Assess Locals

Albany, Dec. 3 (AP)—The State Federation of Labor said today it would assess its 1,500 locals for funds to carry "test" unemployment insurance cases to the highest courts and to help members fight state injunctive cases. Harold C. Hanover, secretary-treasurer of the federation, declined to say how much the federation planned to raise. He said each local would be assessed up to $25, payable in a lump sum. The executive council unanimously endorsed the program the federation will present to the 1954 Legislature.

Zoning Board . . .

application on the grounds that the applicant's was "a hardship problem." It was brought out that hilly and rocky terrain at the rear of the Canfield property on East Chester street prevented the building of the proposed two-car garage so that it would be as far back from the street as the law requires. The garage is to be for private use.

The board reserved decision on the Fitzgerald application so that it might have time to review argument for and against the proposal. The applicant said he is a contractor, who works away from home, and he needs some space in which to store the tile he uses in his work.

Two of Fitzgerald's neighbors had expressed a willingness to go along with him on the application, if it was agreed that he did not expand in the use of the structure, but many in the neighborhood last night opposed the application, including John N. Cordts and Dr. C. D. Carter. They felt that trucks going to and from the garage would be a menace and a neighborhood nuisance.

Provides for Garage

The zoning law provides for a garage big enough to accommodate a ton and a half truck in a residential zone, but stresses that "no activities for gain," (in business, etc.) is to be permitted in such garages.

Attorney William A. Kaercher represented a group of opponents to the Perry application and John N. Cordts was among those against it.

The opponents argued that the granting of such applications tends to commercialize a neighborhood, and in this case, milk trucks would be noisy in the early morning.

Eight Machines Operate

Supporters of the Perry application, however, argued that only a few doors away from the property involved eight sewing machines are in operation, and they contended that if such privilege is allowed one, it should be allowed another. The applicant indicated that the use of the garage in the conduct of his business would reduce his overhead.

Decision was also reserved on this case, and it was indicated that the hearing of this application and that of Fitzgerald were especially important because whatever is to be decided by the board will affect many small businesses and industries in the city.

Fred J. Baker sat with Avis at the hearing. The other member of the board, Attorney Thomas F. Saccoman did not sit because of a personal interest in one of the applicants.

Galley Ends Year In Jail; Is Booked On Parole Charge

Walter Galley, 31, today completed his one-year term in the Ulster county jail on an abandonment charge, but he did not go free.

At 12:01 a. m. today, Galley was formally re-booked at the court house on a warrant charging violation of parole. He will remain at the county jail until parole officers take him into custody. Sheriff's office men said the charge concerns alleged violations of parole conditions imposed upon him following a robbery conviction.

Galley was sentenced to one year in jail by County Judge John M. Cashin after he was charged by the grand jury last year with abandoning a six-month-old daughter, Shirley, near Gardiner in May, 1951. The baby allegedly was left on the lawn behind a fence at a residence. She was apparently in good health when found.

Served Year in Chicago

Galley's whereabouts remained unknown until December, 1951, when he was arrested in Chicago on a charge of abandoning a three-day-old child in that city. He was sentenced to a year in the house of correction there. On completion of that term, on Nov. 28, 1952, he was arrested and returned to Ulster county to face charges here.

Accused with Galley in both the Ulster county and Chicago cases was Barbara Jolin, who was 23 at the time of the sentencing in Ulster county a year ago. She received a one-year suspended sentence and was placed on probation.

15th Drop Noted

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—A Senate-House Committee reported today the number of civilian federal jobholders dropped in October for the 15th consecutive month. The government's pay roll was put at 2,373,113 in October, a decrease of 28,697 compared with September and of 196,941 compared with October of 1952.

Sticks to His Post After Army Forgets of Him

Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 3 (AP)—U. S. Army authorities have recommended a commendation for a private who stuck to his post for a week after the army forgot him.

The soldier, Pvt. Raymond L. Cote, of Saco, Maine, was assigned to guard pontoons near the small Hessian village of Ginsheim during maneuvers last October.

"Somebody slipped up and he was not relieved," an army official here said today.

For a week Cote stayed on guard. At night he bedded down in the open in a sleeping bag. Worried Germans living nearby fed him sandwiches. Later in the week they urged him to leave his post because the exercise was over.

But Cote stayed on until members of his unit returned seven days after they left him. Back with his company, he got his first hot meal in a week.

Trial Is Adjourned

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—A General Sessions jury was sent to the Hotel Commodore early today after twice telling Judge John A. Mullen that they could not agree in the case of Michael Clemente, waterfront union official accused of perjury. The trial was adjourned at 1:40 a. m. until noon today. Clemente, who has been free in $10,000 bail throughout the trial, was denied parole in his attorney's custody for the first time and was jailed for the night.

Students of County May Enter Contest For Health Posters

The Ulster County Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Medical Society of the County of Ulster announces the second annual Health Poster Contest, open to all students of primary and secondary schools in Ulster county, both private and public. The purpose of this contest is to bring to each pupil an awareness of the importance of good health and to alert him to his responsibility in maintaining his own health.

Last year's results were most gratifying. Many fine posters were received and one of these, Wings of Life, done by Miss Lillie Koniuk of Kingston High School won state-wide recognition.

Prizes for the county winners will be contributed by the Ulster County Medical Society. The posters will be judged in one of four categories, with prizes as follows: grades 10-12, $50 bond; grades 7-9, $25 bond; grades 4-6, $25 bond; grades 1-3, $10 cash. All second prize winners will receive a silver medal.

The winning posters will then be forwarded to the State Contest and will compete at that level. The winners of the State Contest will become the official health posters for the Medical Society of the State of New York. The prizes for this contest are as follows: 10-12 grade group, first prize $125 bond, second prize $75 bond; 7-9 grade group, first prize $100 bond, second prize $50 bond; 4-6 grade group, first prize $50 bond, second prize $25 bond; 1-3 grade group, first prize $50 bond, second prize $25 bond.

Mrs. Elbert MacFadden is serving as chairman of the Ulster county contest and is being assisted by Mrs. Peter Corsones, Mrs. Milton Grover, Mrs. Joseph Hartman, Mrs. Arthur Hazenbush, Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, Mrs. Anthony Mauceri, Mrs. Ted Smalldon, and Mrs. Anthony Tocco.

Gets in Rut

Charleston, S. C. (AP) — The woman driver wondered why she was going around in circles. She told one cop that twice a traffic policeman had waved her to the left when she didn't want to turn. The cop pointed to her turn signal—blinking left. A short circuit made it go on—left—every time she put her foot on the brakes.

LOOKED UPON AS UNCARING

One of the most unreasonable points of view that I have ever encountered is expressed in the following letter: "My husband and I and two other couples had tickets for the theatre for last Saturday evening. These tickets were bought weeks in advance. Two days before we were to go to the theatre, my mother-in-law was in an automobile accident and was taken to the hospital. She was very badly shaken up but we were assured by the doctor that she would be all right. My husband and I went to the theatre as planned. We are now being looked upon by the rest of the family as being very uncaring. This has upset me a good deal and I would very much like to know if we were wrong."

Unless your mother-in-law was so critically ill that death was possible, there was no reason in the world why you shouldn't have gone to the theatre. It would have been senseless not to go—especially since she was being well taken care of.

When Mother Is Teaching

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a school teacher. My daughter goes to this same school and will be in my class next term. She, of course, always calls me "Mother," and I would like to know if it would be proper for her to call me this when she is in my class, or must she call me what the other students do — which is Mrs. Brown.

Answer: Even though it would be quite understandable for her to call you "Mother," it would unavoidably give her a privilege which the others lack. Therefore, it is important that she learn to call you what the other students do while in the classroom.

Christmas Presents for Fiance

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it would be proper to give my fiance a lounging robe and slippers for Christmas. I know this is something he would like, and could use, but wondered about the propriety of such a present.

Answer: If you are going to be married very soon, I can't see any impropriety in adding this to his trousseau. But if your wedding date is in the far future, then I think another type of gift would be better.

Every letter should be written with care on the proper stationery. To improve your letters both in appearance and in wording, you will find Mrs. Post's booklet No. 502, "Letter Writing," helpful. The Ulster County Savings Institution on Wall street has inaugurated a new and interesting idea this year in connection with its annual calendar which is being distributed to customers. Taking advantage of the many historic and scenic buildings and views of the area, at least one local view is being included as an illustration on the calendar.

This year the first picture, well done in color, is that of the old Reformed Church and stone parsonage in the village of Hurley. In coming seasons the Ulst County Savings Institution w use local scenes for their annu calendars.

Desmond Proposes Ways to Eliminate Crime in Polities

Albany, Dec. 3 (AP)—State Sen. Thomas C. Desmond called today for a "cleaning up" of the New York Legislature and a study of ways to "crush the alliance between politics and crime."

The Newburgh Republican said he would present to the 1954 Legislature a series of bills aimed at overhauling what he termed "a political system which spawns office-holders who are out for a 'fast buck.'"

Would Form Commission

The first bill, Desmond said in a statement made public here, will propose creation of a seven-member governor's commission to determine ways of "cleaning up politics and the Legislature."

Desmond named no individuals and gave no specific instances in his statement. He told The Associated Press: "I have no interest in punishing any individual."

He said at his home in Newburgh that he would make clear later what he meant by his demand for a clean-up of the Legislature.

The senator proposed that the governor be empowered to appoint a "clean politics commission," to be made up of citizens "such as Owen D. Young (honorary board chairman of the General Electric Co.) and Bernard Baruch (informal adviser to Franklin Roosevelt and other presidents)."

Outlines His Aims

The commission would be authorized, Desmond said, to study how to:

1. Remove the influence of criminals from political machines.
2. Take the profit out of politics.
3. Remove dependency of political machines on contributions of liquor-store and race-track owners, labor bosses and other special interests.
4. Give parties incentives to compete in nominating outstanding men for office.
5. Curb, through adoption of the direct primary, abuse of county bosses' power to pick state and local candidates.

Desmond maintained various probes in the past had failed to change what he called "a basically foul system." He added that "the current Moreland Commission investigation of harness-racing irregularities is looking (only) into surface wickedness."

Cites Easy Money Angle

"The foundation of current exposures lies in machines which are willing to trade jobs, patronage, insurance and other contracts, licenses and favors, in return for financing.

"The great menace is not so much that officials make money out of their positions, but rather that to keep on making this easy money they are likely to vote, not as they know they should, but rather as they think will help them get re-elected."

Desmond said "a few heads may roll politically" because of scandals and exposures, "but the same kind of shoddy political deals will be made again unless deep-rooted, basic changes are made."

He declared that "clean politics commission . . . without ties to the lawyers, insurance companies and lobbies, which have set the current low statndards of political ethics, would be a dramatic, effective move in the right direction.

"No one would expect miracles from the commission—only integrity. No one would expect they would find a way to change political machines overnight. But they should be able to find means of operating political machines in a democratic culture without payoffs."

Two Are Arrested

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Two New York city detectives have been arrested on charges of shaking down a businessman for $200 to cover up a $53 bad check complaint against him. Arrested in Brooklyn yesterday were Charles Schmitt, 46, of Ridgewood, Queens, and Barnet Rothernberg, 29, of Brooklyn. Police said the case stemmed from a roofer, Francis Graham, paying a butcher with a bad check. The butcher took his complaint to the two detectives, who allegedly contacted the roofer and offered to "take care" of the case for a consideration. The roofer went to the district attorney's office. Police said the serial numbers of $200 in bills were recorded, then they arrested the detectives as the roofer gave them the money.

Dempsey Discusses Marriage, He Says

MRS. H. S. AUGUSTE

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Former heavyweight king Jack Dempsey says he is discussing marriage with multimillionairess Mrs. Harmon Spencer Auguste, but as yet they aren't engaged.

Dempsey was reached by telephone last night in a suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

He said he and Mrs. Auguste had just finished dinner and "we're just talking."

Concerning the possibility of engagement and marriage, the ex-champion said, "it may take weeks, it may take months."

There was no comment from Mrs. Auguste, whose late banker husband reportedly left her 35 million dollars.

Dempsey told newsmen yesterday that he and Mrs. Auguste had "discussed marriage several times in the past."

He said he has known her for 8 or 10 years, and knew her late husband for 25 years.

Dempsey previously was married to Maxine Wayne, actress Estelle Taylor and singer Hannah Williams.

Garbage Strike Looms

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Representatives of 500 garbage collection companies and 1,500 sanitation drivers met in city hall with Daniel Kornblum, director of the city's Division of Labor Relations, and a special committee appointed by Mayor Impellitteri for nearly eight hours yesterday in a new effort to avert a strike set for Monday midnight. The talks were adjourned near midnight until 2 p. m. tomorrow with no word as to progress of negotiations.

Parking Meter Wildlife

Dover, N. H. (AP)—Police were dubious when a motorist told them he had seen two eyes peering at him from inside a parking meter. Investigating, they found an eight inch snake.

Test Is Thorough

Newbury, Mass. (AP)—Newbury firemen are bound they'll get their money's worth. They bought a new horn to call members of the department. They tested it from atop the town hall and it proved pretty good. But before they fork over the cash they're going to test it from atop a barn at another end of town. If it arouses the deepest sleepers of the department the sale will be completed.

Whale Sinks Bark

A harpooned sperm whale charged and sank the American bark Kathleen in 1902. The ship went down in five minutes, says the National Geographic Society, and all hands survived, although nine whalemen had to row 1,060 miles before reaching safety.

Alarm Is Bypassed

Stevens Point, Wis. (AP)—After two burglaries, management of the Copps Co. rural grocery store, wired all doors and windows with a new alarm system. In a third burglary nearly $4,000 was stolen. The alarm system was bypassed when the thieves chopped a hole in the roof and lowered themselves into the store.

AMERICAN MENU

Julekake Is Norwegian Bread Made to Serve at Christmas

NORWEGIAN JULEKAKE is made by Americans of Norwegian descent at Christmas time. It is filled with fruit.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Market Editor

"Gladelig Jul" (Merry Christmas) is what Americans of Norwegian descent say on Christmas Day. Mrs. Hanna Falk of St. Paul, Minn., celebrates Christmas in the tradition of her native country, Norway. She begins her holiday baking early.

She has 10 large cookie jars filled to the brim with a variety of Norwegian holiday sweets—Fattigmands, deep-fat fried cookies; Sandbakkelse, cookie tarts; Berlinerkranser, cookie wreaths, rosettes and rich oatmeal cookies.

With the cookies there's always a batch of fresh-baked yeast breads, for Christmas just isn't complete in a Norwegian household without the traditional rich fruit bread called Julekake. It keeps moist for a full week. Here is Mrs. Falk's recipe for this traditional bread:

Julekake
(One 9-inch round loaf)

One cup scalded milk, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon powdered cardamom, 2 packages or 2 cakes dry or compressed yeast, 2/3 cup rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked), 2 tablespoons shortening, soft, 1 egg, 2¾ to 3 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 cup chopped citron, ½ cup chopped candied cherries, ½ cup raisins.

Cool milk to lukewarm. Mix together milk, sugar, salt and cardamom in large bowl; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle or crumble the yeast into the liquid and let stand until softened. Add rolled oats and let stand about 5 minutes. Stir in shortening and eggs. Add about half the flour and all the fruit and mix well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough.

Turn dough out on lightly floured board and knead until satiny, about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; brush lightly with melted shortening; cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch down; turn over and let rise again until double. Punch down; turn out on lightly floured board and let rest 10 minutes. Form into a ball and place in a greased 9-inch round pan. Cover and let rise until double in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Brush top with slightly beaten egg. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 40 to 45 minutes. Remove from pan at once.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Frosted pineapple cup, salmon souffle (baked in ring form), horseradish tomato sauce, fluffy rice, buttered broccoli, enriched bread, butter or margarine, raw carrot sticks and ripe olives, chocolate cake, coffee, milk.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Player Sees Trick And Stops Finesse

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

In most bridge games today's hand would be played quickly and heedlessly by both sides, and nobody would give the hand a second thought after it had been played. Fortunately for those of us who like good hands, it was actually dealt at the Expert's Table of New York's Cavendish Club, and the play on both sides was worth a second look.

West opened the king of hearts, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer led a low diamond from the dummy and finessed the queen

	NORTH 3 ♠ A 9 3 ♥ A 7 6 3 ♦ J 10 6 5 ♣ 10 4
WEST ♠ 4 ♥ K Q J 9 4 2 ♦ K 7 2 ♣ K 9 7		EAST ♠ K 5 2 ♥ 10 ♦ 9 8 4 ♣ J 8 6 5 3 2
	SOUTH (D) ♠ Q J 10 8 7 6 ♥ 8 5 ♦ A Q 3 ♣ A Q

Both sides vul.

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	2 ♥	2 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♥ K

from his hand. West won with the king of diamonds and considered his next move.

The average defender would just cash the queen of hearts and then lead another heart to make South ruff. South would then lose the trump finesse, but would be able to win the rest without much trouble by taking the ace of clubs, drawing trumps, and running diamonds.

The actual West player knew that the only missing heart was the eight. If East held this card, it was quite safe for West to lead the deuce of hearts. If South held it, East would be forced to ruff. This is what West wanted, so he led the deuce of hearts.

East ruffed and, since he was an expert, got the general idea at once. He had been forced to win the trick in order to shift to clubs, so he promptly returned a club.

Perhaps the average South would try the club finesse and thus lose the hand. Or perhaps he would go up with the ace of clubs and lose the hand by trying the trump finesse.

The actual declarer, since he was an expert like the two defenders, saw the plot and realized that neither finesse was likely to work. He therefore proceeded to make the hand without a finesse.

He won the club shift with the ace, led a trump to dummy's ace, and then started to run the diamonds. East had to follow suit on three rounds of diamonds, fortunately for declarer, so that South was able to discard the queen of clubs on dummy's last diamond. East could ruff with the king of spades, if he wished to do so, but that was the only trick he could take and the contract was safe.

Nehru Sees . . .

Communist agreement made by Korean President Syngman Rhee and Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek.

Nehru said there is "no ill will by the Indian people toward the American people. There are differences in approach regarding the problems affecting the U. S. and Asia."

New Delhi, India, Dec. 3 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told a questioner in Parliament today the Indian government "has no intention of keeping our forces in Korea indefinitely."

Nehru said the question of convening a Korean political conference "as early as possible" might be raised in the UN Assembly "if this is considered necessary."

He added it was possible it would be raised in the remaining week of the present session "but there is a chance an emergency session might be held later in any event."

The United States and her UN allies in Korea have been reported anxious to prevent further Assembly debate on Korea now on grounds it might interfere with the attempts at Panmunjom by U. E. Envoy Arthur Dean to arrange a political conference.

3. Service leaders must accept blame for yielding to popular and "political pressure" in adopting after World War 2 policies which served to diminish the distinction between ranks and to force officers and enlisted men into a "common social pattern."

4. There should be prompt restoration of fringe benefits and an end to what the report called whittling away of extras which military men have traditionally considered to be part of their income.

Radford Reports JCS Favors Slow Change in Setup

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, says the JCS favor a gradual—not radical—change in the national defense setup based on a long-term program.

The admiral, speaking last night before the American Ordnance Association did not mention the "new look" ordered by the Eisenhower administration after installing a new slate of members for the joint chiefs organization.

The Russians, Radford said, are capable of touching off a shooting war triggered by a "small group of men in the Kremlin."

He said the Soviet system includes a three-pronged method of gaining objectives: politico-economic, military, and psychological-propaganda. If one of them is turned back, Radford said, another is used.

Speaks at Point

In a speech at West Point, earlier yesterday, Radford said the truce in Korea "is not a peace" and added:

"* * * Stopping the aggression in Korea simply means that one tentacle of Soviet communism has been denied the prize for which it was reaching. But there are other tentacles, and there are other prizes * * *."

In view of Russia's objectives, the admiral said in his night talk, "and other planning factors, the new Joint Chiefs of Staff considered it absolutely mandatory that we not make any recommendations for radical changes—especially not on an overnight basis." He added:

"In discussing this with Secretary of Defense Wilson, we agreed that the best defense plans and programs will come about through evolution, if we plan deliberately and with wisdom.

"We further agreed that, even though our military plans are based primarily on military factors, we must also take into account a wider range of policy and economic factors, as well as the latest technological developments.

Recommendations Given

"Therefore, in accordance with our established national policies and commitments, the joint chiefs of staff submitted in October their recommendations for combat forces for fiscal year 1955.

"The forces do not represent any material change from those developed in previously approved plans except, of course, for certain increases we recommend for continental defense.

"Neither do these forces represent a decision to carry on just as before, merely for the sake of resistance to a change. They represent interim levels, pending the formulation and completion of a longer term program which continues under study. They represent a step in what I call our planning for the long term pull, in lieu of a particular year-of-crisis."

Concerns Policy

Radford's reference to "year-of-crisis" planning presumably concerned the policy of the former chiefs of staff who—in their planning — originally designated 1954 as the year of greatest danger of a new world conflict.

Long a navy partisan in the feud between the navy and air force over the roles of navy carrier aviation as opposed to long-range air force bombers, Radford said last night:

"There is no argument among military planners as to the importance of air forces."

However, he added: "Yet now, and for an indeterminate period in the future, air forces must be complemented with other forces. Land forces, amphibious forces, anti-submarine warfare forces, and other well-rounded forces are going to be necessary in either a small war or a large war."

Weekly Food Review

By The Associated Press

Beef looks like your best bet in meats this weekend, the men who run the nation's food stores agree. Leg of lamb also will be a special attraction in many markets.

A number of stores have picked pot roast as a weekend feature. There will be specials on sirloin and porterhouse steak, ground beef and other cuts in various sections of the country.

Stores featuring leg of lamb plan to trim a few cents a pound from prices. Elsewhere, price tags will be about the same as a week ago to a little higher.

Scattered stores will offer lower prices on pork loin, but in general pork will be higher. Rises of two to four cents a pound are planned for center cut pork chops.

Egg Prices Decline

Frying chickens will be selling at about the same price levels that prevailed a week ago. But eggs will be distinctly cheaper in most stores. According to the national poultry and egg board, egg prices have declined about 15 cents a dozen at wholesale since Nov. 23.

As a result, prices are coming down at the retail level. Declines will range from six cents a dozen to as much as 12 cents.

Butter prices will be about the same in most stores.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture came up with a long list of worthwhile buys in vegetables. "Outstanding buys" include iceberg lettuce, beans, cabbage, potatoes, brussels sprouts and cauliflower. "Good buys" are cucumbers, eggplant, escarole, onions, sweet potatoes and squash.

Peas, celery and tomatoes moved higher in the wholesale markets. Supplies of tomatoes were especially light.

Pears and apples offer the best values in fruit, produce men said. Oranges, lemons, grapefruit and tangerines declined a bit at wholesale.

Bought First Aircraft

Washington—The United States bought its first military aircraft in 1909, six years after the Wright Brothers made the first airplane flight, says the National Geographic Society. In 1911 Congress made the first aviation appropriation: $125,000.

A work party will be held by members of the Union Center Civic Group at the school Monday night, Dec. 7.

Committee Chairmen Report at Rotary Club

Several committee chairmen gave reports on the activities of the members in the various branches of service at the Rotary Club luncheon-meeting Wednesday. Dr. James E. Plans were outlined for the annual Christmas party to be held Wednesday, December 30.

Arlene Longendyke, Joseph Groppuso Wed In Afternoon Rites

Miss Arlene Ann Longendyke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Longendyke of 69 Hinsdale street became the bride of Joseph C. Groppuso, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Groppuso of Kiersted avenue, in a ceremony held Sunday, Nov. 29 at 2:30 p. m. at St. Peter's R. C. Church.

The Rev. Joseph Geis, pastor of this church, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Nan Goldrick was organist for the ceremony, and C. J. Heitzman was soloist. The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her brother, Fred Longendyke, Jr., the bride wore a gown of rose point lace styled with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves, and a modified Queen Anne collar. Her floor length skirt of lace panels and pleated tulle terminated in a court train. A crown of pearlized flowers secured a French illusion veil.

Mrs. Edward J. Finn was matron of honor for her sister. Her gown was of sunset blue chromespun taffeta, fashioned with a camisole top, and a matching shrug. The full skirt was floor length. A matching hat of taffeta and net completed her ensemble. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The attendants were Miss Lois Schick, Mrs. Robert Felton, sister of the bride, Mrs. Emilio Groppuso, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Mrs. James Gallagher, sister of the bride. Miss Schick and Mrs. Felton wore gowns of coppertone chromespun taffeta, and Mrs. Groppuso and Mrs. Gallagher wore gowns of the same material in emerald, identical in style to that of the matron of honor. Their matching hats were of the same design, also, as that of the matron of honor. They carried muffs of yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Deborah Steeger, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a frock of sea-green taffeta, with puffed sleeves and a floor length, tiered skirt. Her headpiece was a crown of yellow chrysanthemums. She carried a basket of small yellow chrysanthemums.

The best man was Emilio Groppuso of Port Ewen. The ushers were Joseph Apa, Fred Groppuso, brother of the bridegroom, Robert Longendyke, brother of the bride and Edward Finn, brother-in-law of the bride.

Charles Markle, Jr., nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 100 guests was held at the Rose Marie.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and Richmond, Va. For traveling, the bride wore a rose cashmere princess style dress, with a taupe broadcloth fitted coat, brown velvet hat and accessories of brown suede.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Groppuso will make their home at 343 Washington avenue.

The bride is a graduate of St. Peter's School and Kingston High School, class of 1952. She is employed by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Kingston High School, and served two years with the U. S. Army, 14 months of which were spent in Japan and Korea. He is employed by the Kolts Electric Supply Company.

Santa to Pay Visit To Old Dutch Church Christmas Bazaar

Santa Claus himself is due to steal the show Friday when he makes a surprise visit to the Christmas Fair at the Old Dutch Church. The Jolly Elf has promised to be on hand to greet the kiddies and lend a festive atmosphere to the bazaar and caefteria supper which are being presented by the Women's Guild of the church. He will preside, too, at the giant Christmas tree.

The attractive booths which are to feature such colorful items as Christmas centerpieces, tree ornaments, flowers, plants, homebaked goods and hooked rugs, have been arranged to accommodate discriminating shoppers.

The doors of Bethany Hall, where the fair will take place, will be open to the public at 10:30 a. m., when coffee and doughnuts will be on sale. The booths will open at 12:30 p. m. A surprise addition to the display of gifts will be a collection of imported items from Holland.

The day-long Fair will be climaxed by a cafeteria supper, served from 5 p. m. to 6:30 p. m. prepared and served by the women of the church. Special accommodations are planned for children and the public is cordially invited to eat, browse, shop, and join in the festivities.

Home for Aged Resident Honored

Mrs. Lucinda Krom celebrated her 93rd birthday Monday with a party for relatives and friends at the Home for the Aged where Mrs. Krom is now living. Charles Shutts, organist at the Trinity Methodist Church, serenaded the group with selections on the grand piano.

The Rev. William McVey expressed the sentiment of the gathering by saying that Mrs. Krom exemplifies a fine spirit of courage, loyalty, cheerfulness and a willingness to help others and herself which is remarkable for a person of her age.

Attending the event from out of town was Miss Alice Krom of Newark, N. J., a daughter; Mrs. Krom's other daughter is Mrs. Bertram Niece of Leonia, N. J., with three children and three grandchildren. A son, Harry R. Krom, living in California, and Mrs. Krom have a family of three children and four grandchildren. Mrs. Krom is very proud of her growing family.

Mrs. George DuBois officiated at cutting the cake which read, Happy Birthday from the Gang. Mrs. Krom, formerly a practical nurse, is a well-liked resident of the Home, and is thoughtful with reminders when other persons' birthdays and anniversary dates are on the calendar.

St. Nicholas Arrives In Kingston as Church Revives Dutch Custom

St. Nicholas will again ride the streets of Kingston Saturday. The Old Dutch Church revived the observance of St. Nicholas Eve four years ago and has carried on every year except last year when because of inclement weather the ride had to be cancelled.

St. Nicholas was a real person who was Bishop of Myra around the twelfth century. He spent his whole life in doing kindly deeds. He took special care of children and for this reason he is called the children's own saint.

Once in a land where St. Nicholas lived, there was a poor man. He lived in a tiny hut with his three children. He was so poor that he had to sell his belongings, one by one, to buy food. When at last he had nothing left, he decided he would have to sell his three little daughters.

St. Nicholas heard of this. When all was dark, he came and dropped a purse of gold down the chimney of the tiny hut. When the poor man found the purse he wondered. He could not think who had brought it. When this money was gone, the same thing happened again.

The third time the man found himself in distress he decided to sit up all night to watch for his unknown friend. St. Nicholas came. No sooner was the purse of gold dropped down the chimney than the man rushed out of doors. He was just in time to catch hold of the robe of the good bishop. The man spread the news far and wide.

Ever since then people have known that it is St. Nicholas, or Sinterklaas, who brings gifts in the night.

In the Netherlands December 5, or St. Nicholas' Eve, has been observed for hundreds of years. St. Nicholas, unlike the German jolly Santa Claus, is a very dignified figure, beautifully dressed in a red robe with a gold cross embroidered on the back. He wears a tall red hat, also ornamented with a gold cross. His long white beard adds a benevolent touch. Black Peter, who accompanies him, is a medieval page who carries presents for the good children and a bundle of birch twigs for punishing naughty children.

The first boat bringing Dutch settlers to New Amsterdam had an image of St. Nicholas on her deck—thus the good saint came to the new world. Until the middle of the 1800's St. Nicholas Eve was observed in Dutch communities and families up and down the Hudson Valley. The custom is still carried on in the Netherlands today.

St. Nicholas for the first time since the custom was revived in Kingston, will be dressed in his traditional bishop's rope and will be accompanied by Black Peter. He will leave the Armory at 7 o'clock and proceed to the Old Dutch Church by way of Roosevelt, Albany, Clinton and Main streets. Appropriate music will ring from the old church tower as St. Nicholas arrives. At the church he will distribute candy to all the children. The approximate time of arrival at the church is 7:30. The public is invited.

Players, Owners Split As Frick Bars Lewis; Pension Plan May End

Relationships At Widest Breach

Atlanta, Dec. 3 (AP) — The strained relationship between the major league players and club owners reached its widest breach today after a pair of bombshells exploded yesterday.

It began with the refusal of the player representatives of the 16 major league clubs to attend a scheduled meeting with Commissioner Ford Frick because their attorney, J. Norman Lewis, had been barred.

It ended with the commissioner's revelation that the major league executive council was considering the termination of the players' multi-million dollar pension plan.

May Dissolve Plan

Frick disclosed at a news conference that the major league owners, at their annual meeting in New York next week, will vote on a resolution that could dissolve the entire pension plan within 90 days although its present five-year setup does not expire until 1956.

Frick explained that it was not until 15 minutes before the proposed meeting yesterday morning that Ralph Kiner and Allie Reynolds, National and American League player representatives called on him to permit Lewis to be present.

"I told them that was not possible," Frick said.

Frick said he felt he had the right to summon anyone he wanted—player or club official—in the interests of baseball, without any outsider present.

Kiner and Reynolds contended that Lewis was their official legal counsel and they advised Frick that the players had unanimously voted that Lewis must be admitted or they would not attend themselves.

Players Leave for Homes

All player representatives departed for their homes except Reynolds, who said he would attend the American League meeting in New York next week. Will Harridge, league president said, however, the invitation to Reynolds to attend the American League session had been withdrawn. Reynolds was not available for comment.

If the owners' resolution should be approved next week, it would terminate one of the most elaborate pension funds ever set up in sports. Conceived in 1947 and expanded in 1952 with the entry of an annual million dollar fee from World Series and All-Star game receipts, it now provides a fund that assures an income of $100 a month to 10-year players on retiring age of 50 on down to $50 a month for five-year men.

Asked for Increase

Frick explained that the players demanded their pension payments be increased from $50 to $80 for five-year men and from $100 to $150 for 10-year men. At the same time, the players wanted to reduce the 50-year age eligibility to 45 while paying smaller premiums (currently around $100,000 a year for players). He explained that would boost the cost an additional 7½ million dollars (1½ million a year) for the next five-year period.

Later a major league club official, who asked that his name not be used, declared the players "have gone too far this time. * * * They've asked for a showdown and this is it."

Bevo Francis GardenDebut Set Tonight

New York, Dec. 3 (AP) — Bevo Francis brings Ohio hill country basketball to the big town tonight with the opening of the Madison Square Garden college season.

The 6-foot-9 scoring sensation and his teammates from little Rio Grande College — smallest school ever to be represented in the Garden's 20 years of college basketball—take on Adelphi College of Garden City, with St. John's of Brooklyn, runner-up in last season's National Invitation Tournament facing Lafayette in the other game.

Drawing Power Test

Under normal conditions the twin bill might attract upwards of 14,000 fans. But, because of the strike which has prevented publication of major New York newspapers, Francis will get a real test of his drawing power.

Anything above 10,000 will represent a personal box office triumph for the gangling young man who in his freshman season averaged an amazing 50.1 points per game.

Has Real Rival

When it comes to scoring, however, Bevo has a real rival in Furman's Frank Selvy, scourge of the southlands. Furman has played and lost two games in two nights but Selvy, a 6-4 Kentuckian, is setting a torrid pace in defense of his national scoring crown.

Against North Carolina State Tuesday night he scored 31 points and last night he dropped in 40 as his club bowed to Duke 110-76.

Selvy, who averaged 29.5 per game last season, needs only 489 more points to break the three year major college record of 1,888 set by Clyde Lovellette of Kansas in 1952. And if he retains his title he'll be the only player other than the great George Mikan to win twice in a row.

The new Atlantic Coast Conference opened its season with Maryland edging South Carolina 53-49 in the final 15 seconds. Purdue of the Big Ten started with a 83-64 verdict over Valparaiso.

Gola Sinks 18

Hank Iba's Oklahoma Aggies, always among the top defensive clubs, held Texas in check 54-37.

All-America Tom Gola scored 18 points as La Salle of Philadelphia opened with a 79-37 victory over Millersville, Pa., Teachers. West Virginia outlasted Carnegie Tech 96-92 in overtime.

Loyola of Chicago won its third straight, 90-85 over North Dakota. Niagara, one of the best teams in the east, crushed the University of Toronto 92-29.

Men alcoholics are five times as numerous as women alcoholics.

College Champions

55,000 to Witness TV Game of Week

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 3 (AP)—Unbeaten Notre Dame may be in for some surprises in Saturday's football finale, says Irish scout Johnny Druze who has been spying on Southern Methodist.

Druze is certain that the national television audience and the capacity crowd of 55,000 at Notre Dame Stadium will see a sensational, wide open game.

The kickoff is 2 p. m. EST.

"When those Texans make up their minds to do something they usually succeed," said Druze, a fellow not accustomed to talking with tongue in cheek. "Maybe I can throw away my scouting reports. They undoubtedly will throw stuff at us that they have been saving all season and no one has seen.

"We can expect spread formations, although I haven't seen them use one yet. They have backs who can be used in all kinds of combinations, although basically it's a tight T formation club with split T variations."

'New Look' This Year

The Mustangs uncorked 45 passes to beat Notre Dame 27-20 in 1951, their last meeting. But SMU, under Coach Woody Woodard, is supposed to have a "new look" of a predominantly running team in compiling a 5-4 record this season.

"They run well, but they also have a half dozen backs who can pass, including sophomore Hal O'Brien, a southpaw," Druze added. "And they have a good defensive club, anchored by Don Goss, a 6-4 tackle who is listed at 245 pounds but is actually 270.

"This Goss is like a bird. He has great agility for a big guy, moving along the line with a knack of being at the right place on a play."

Although Druze would not admit it, Notre Dame also is expected to come up with some new stuff that could entail a lot of passing.

The Irish are shooting for their first undefeated season since 1949, having piled up eight victories and one tie, 14-14 with Iowa.

Milk Bar, Village Rest Score Victories in YMCA Winter Loop

Don Evans Wrestles Monday

Don "Killer" Evans of Flatbush, whose mere presence in the ring outrages wrestling fans, has been signed to appear in the co-feature Monday night at the municipal auditorium.

Evans' opponent will be Vic Christy of California in a best-of-three bout.

Although Christy prefers straight wrestling, he usually can tame fellows like Evans with one of the lustiest forearm clouts since the Dusek boys were in their heydey. Christy also specializes in a punishing hold called the spread-eagle—a leg and arm lash that usually brings about a submission fall.

Evans, of course, can wrestle when he wants to and uses the airplane spin to advantage. He is rated as one of the roughest grapplers in the game.

Ray Gunkel, protege of former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey, and Art Nielsen, the Georgia Giant, are paired in the main event.

A 30-minute one-fall bout will round out the program.

The rejuvenated J & E Milk Bar quintet registered a close 52 to 46 decision over Greco Brothers, a new addition to the YMCA Winter League, in one of the games of the double-header Wednesday night.

The teams played closely throughout the first half with the Milk Bar holding a 24 to 22 edge at the intermission. The Milk Bar stepped out in front convincingly in the third quarter racking up 15 points while holding Grecos to 9 points. Grecos came back with a 15-point last quarter but couldn't make the grade. Lloyd Faurote with 18 and Harry Van Wagenen with 14 led the Milk Bar attack. Chris Rienzo and Don Jones had 15 apiece for the losing Greco team.

Van Bramer Hits 22

In the second game, Village Rest had a little too much for Accord and defeated them by the score of 61 to 49. The Accord cagers had bad luck in the third quarter when they only got two points. They came back strong in the fourth quarter with 26 points but couldn't catch the Rest team. Vince Van Bramer with 22 and Ed Van Loan with 21 led the attack for Village Rest. Milford Ebert and Rolf Wustrau had 15 apiece for the losing Accord team.

Hayes Trounced, Is Suspended by Ring Commission

Detroit, Dec. 3 (AP)—Boston middleweight Norman Hayes went back to army life today, apparently finished as a fighter until Uncle Sam gives him his discharge.

Fighting on a three-day pass, Hayes was soundly whipped by Garth Panter of Salt Lake City in a nationally televised 10-rounder at Olympia Stadium last night.

Immediately following the fight, Hayes was suspended by the Michigan State Boxing Board of Control.

At first, the boxing commission sent word around the ring that Hayes was suspended for "inept performance" as well as "poor condition." Later, it amended this to just "poor condition."

Michigan Commissioner Floyd Stevens said the suspension would be effective in all 48 states.

The general feeling among sports writers covering the fight was that Hayes didn't put up a good showing but that he did his best considering the conditions. He's been in the army seven months and his last fight was May 21.

Insists on New Chance

Hayes, dejected, said after the fight:

"I just couldn't get started. I've got to have another chance to prove to these people that there's nothing wrong with me."

Hayes, a 22-year-old Negro stepped into the ring, looking neat and trim. He started at a brisk pace, pounding Panter with a left-right combination which won the first round.

After a close second round, Hayes began to tire and Panter, a 23-year-old iron worker, took charge.

Referee Handler scored it 56-44; Judge Andy Brown 55-45 and Judge Joe Lucas 54-46. The AP agreed with Lucas' 54-46.

Hayes weighed 162½ to 160 for Panter. A crowd of 1,813 paid a gross of $3,252.70.

Detroit Woman Raps 758 Series

Detroit, Dec. 3 (AP) — Ann Setlock, 29-year-old Detroit lathe operator, last night rolled a blistering 758 series, the highest series in Women's International Bowling Congress competition this year.

Miss Setlock put together games of 194, 287 and 277 for what is also the fifth highest series in the 36-year history of the WIBC.

Dorothy Focht, Akron, Ohio, held the previous high individual series this year with 736.

Rangers and Hawks Battle to 3-3 Tie

(By The Associated Press)

No matter in what position the New York Rangers finish this National Hockey League season, it looks as if they will be able to boast one of the circuit's top scorers in little Wally Hergesheimer.

Hergesheimer, who scored 30 times last year, racked up his eighth tally of the current campaign last night as the Rangers battled to a 3-3 tie with the Chicago Black Hawks in the only game scheduled.

Wally's marker was a big one. It came at 11:36 of the final period just after defenseman Al Dewsbury had put Chicago in front 3-2 with his first goal of the season.

Aussies Gain Finals

Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 3 (AP)—Australia's youthful Davis Cup stars—Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad—today gained the final of the Victorian singles tennis championships. Top seeded Rosewall beat George Worthington 6-1, 2-6, 6-0, 6-1 and Hoad whipped Rex Hartwig 2-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

Ship Officers Strike

Oslo, Norway, Dec. 3 (AP)—Norwegian ship officers struck today in a walkout which may tie up most of their nation's merchant fleet, backbone of its economy. The deck officers complain they are not making as much as the men in the engine room. Only a few ships were involved in the initial walkout over a wage dispute between shipowners and members of the Norwegian Mates' Union. But shipping officials estimated that at least 400 vessels would be idle within a month, barring drastic government action to keep the dollar-earning merchant navy on the move.

Trotting Officers Re-elected for '54

Mineola, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Old Country Trotting Assn., the mainspring in two harness tracks in the area, said today that despite a state probe of its activities the current officers were re-elected unanimously at a stockholders meeting.

Robert G. Johnson, association president, said that more than 200 stockholders, representing 85 per cent of the group's stock, voted complete confidence in him and other officers at an annual meeting Tuesday night in Garden City.

"We feel that in spite of this great hullabaloo, actually the result of a political campaign, we will prove the honesty and integrity of our operation," Johnson said in a statement read at the meeting.

Appreciate Confidence

"We appreciate the support and confidence that our stockholders have shown in us. We can now proceed to the defense of our business knowing they are behind us to a man."

Old Country operates Roosevelt Raceway on Long Island and has controlling interest in the company which owns Yonkers Raceway.

Both tracks are under suspicion as hotbeds of rackets, extortion, and other criminal practices.

Among the Old Country officers re-elected was George Morton Levy, chairman of the executive board, whose son, George, Jr., reportedly got $160,000 a year for making motion pictures of every race at both tracks. The films, although not official, are available to judges to spot fouls.

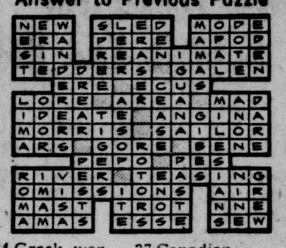

When the Sudan held an election recently it required five weeks.

'Anxious Heart' Described to AMA

St. Louis, Dec. 3 (AP)—Worried about your heart?

There's a good chance you just have "anxious heart," with nothing actually wrong with your heart despite pains or other signs.

This anxiety heart disease was described today to the American Medical Association by Dr. Jackson A. Smith, department of phychiatry and neurology, Baylor University College of Medicine, Houston, Texas.

The treatment is to assure a person that there's nothing wrong with his heart, and then not to mention his so-called heart disease again, Dr. Smith said.

Two Are Found Guilty Of Bronx Tavern Murder

New York, Dec. 3 (AP)—Two young Negroes were found guilty yesterday of the murder of Bronx tavern owner Michael J. Prendergast by an all-male jury which recommended mercy.

A third Negro, Theodore White, 19-year-old unemployed laborer, collapsed to the floor, sobbing with relief, when acquitted. He was promptly arrested for a gas station holdup, however, which took place the same day as Prendergast's slaying.

Judge Harold A. Stevens set Dec. 16 for sentencing of the two guilty men: Sandy Brown Jr., also a 19-year-old unemployed laborer and Leroy Funny, 21, a laundry worker.

Prendergast gave the three men a lift July 28 near George Washington Bridge as he was returning from New Jersey. He was shot, robbed of $80 and his body tossed out in a small park.

Entitled to Refund

Washington, Dec. 3 (AP)—The estate of Simon Guggenheim, who was a member of a noted New York financial and philanthropic family, is entitled to a $28,861 tax refund, the U. S. Court of Claims has ruled. The claim was filed in October, 1950, by Guggenheim's widow, Olga H., and two other executors of his estate. Guggenheim died Nov. 2, 1941. The estate sought the refund on the basis of an Internal Revenue Service ruling concerning a trust fund established by Guggenheim and three brothers for a fourth brother.

Weather Fare Poor In Certain Regions

(By The Associated Press)

Another wet and dreary day was the outlook for wide areas in the mid-continent and some western states. Fair weather prevailed in the eastern quarter of the country and over most of the southwest to the Pacific coast.

Rain pelted areas from the Rockies to the Ohio Valley, but no heavy amounts were reported. Rain fell from the Texas Panhandle northeastward to lower Michigan and southwestward through the lower Mississippi Valley. Thundershowers were reported in northeastern Texas, Oklahoma and southeastern Kansas.

Snow fell in the west central plains westward to the Rockies and as far south as central New Mexico. Snow flurries were reported in Montana.

No extremely low temperatures were reported with most readings above normal for early December. However, cooler weather moved eastward from the Rockies and headed into midwest areas.

Three Accountants Form Firm in Three Places

Thomas H. Dendy, certified public accountant with offices at 48 Main street, has joined with two former associates in the formation of a firm with offices here, in Hudson and in New York city.

Dendy's partners are Joseph P. Kane of New York and Reginald H. Pattison of Hudson. The three men were associated during the war years with the firm of Touche, Niven and Company in New York. Dendy, who resides in Woodstock opened his office here individually on Nov. 1, 1952.

The firm, known as Dendy, Kane and Pattison, certified public accountants, will maintain offices at 48 Main street, Kingston; 50 Madison avenue, New York, and 609 Warren street, Hudson.

Albany, Dec. 3 (AP) — A New York city firm submitted a low bid of $7,162,902 today for the construction of the Nyack approach to the state Thruway's Hudson river bridge now under construction.

The project, in Rockland county, includes the construction of 1.57 miles of Thruway, 4.46 miles of access roads and the relocation of about half a mile of Erie railroad tracks.

To Refund Payments

New York, Dec. 3 (AP) — The board of estimate unanimously agreed late yesterday to refund $619,811 in franchise tax payments to eight private bus companies to help the companies meet additional costs of a recent arbitration award. The comptroller's office had held a percentage of the companies' franchise taxes in escrow since April 27 pending arbitration proceedings involving the companies as the result of a four-weeks strike on the lines last January. No action was taken on the companies' petition for a 15-cent fare.

this Christmas . . . give her a useful gift
or
the world's most advanced sewing machines!

NECCHI, world's most advanced cabinet machine

ELNA, world's most advanced portable

A "Magic Disc" sewing machine will not only make the ideal Christmas gift for the woman in your life — but, with it, she'll be able to turn out the the most wonderful gifts for others . . . beautifully decorated handbags, luncheon sets, children's clothes, slips, blouses.

Best of all, she doesn't have to be experienced. She just picks a stitch, slips in a magic disc — and the machine does the rest.

Completely automatically it turns out scores of intricate designs. Without attachments it sews on buttons, makes buttonholes, darns and mends . . . monograms and appliques . . . sews zig-zag and straight, forward and reverse. With one of these machines she can clothe herself and your family — and save the cost of the machine in no time at all.

These and other exquisite items can be produced as simply as sewing an ordinary seam
